Ally Bank Launches Home Grant Program Alongside New Eligibility Search Tool

Ally Home Grant will be visible on the lender's home search portal; an industry-disruptive move enabled by HouseCanary to help make assistance more accessible – and homeownership more attainable – for more consumers

CHARLOTTE, N.C., March 19, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Ally Financial Inc. (NYSE: ALLY) today announced that Ally Home, its residential mortgage lending arm of Ally Bank, will offer a $5,000 grant for eligible homebuyers in three major metro areas to apply toward downpayment, closing or other costs. To help consumers take advantage of this assistance, Ally is partnering with HouseCanary to provide consumers with tools to easily identify grant-eligible properties via the Ally ComeHome search portal.

With one-third of U.S. consumers unaware that grants and other aid are available, and not knowing enough about assistance programs being the primary reason consumers give for not applying for any, this marks the first time a digital-only bank has offered such a solution.

"The homebuying process is overwhelming enough without the added complexity of identifying and securing the assistance you may need to afford a home in the first place," said Glenn Brunker, President of Ally Home. "With the support of HouseCanary's technical capabilities, we're removing these hurdles by creating a one-stop-shop with all the tools, resources and products a homebuyer needs throughout their entire journey."

"Leveraging innovative technology to support consumers throughout their homeownership journey is central to HouseCanary's mission. By incorporating our ComeHome technology into Ally's website, we're equipping Ally's customers with a user-friendly platform that makes finding grant-eligible properties a simple and efficient process," said Jeremy Sicklick, Co-Founder and CEO at HouseCanary.

Furthering its mission to close persistent homeownership gaps while driving local economic growth, the Ally Home Grant will be available to homeowners in select markets with an income less than or equal to 100% of the area median income (AMI) and for the purchase of a primary residence. Those who qualify can combine the Ally Home Grant with additional grants or offerings from Ally, including the Fannie Mae HomeReady® Mortgage program, which enables consumers to become homeowners for as little as 3% down. The grants will be available to homebuyers in Charlotte, Detroit and Philadelphia within select markets with consideration to expand in the future.

"Buying a home is an unattainable dream for more than half of U.S. residents, which is why we strive to make homeownership more accessible to a wider range of individuals and families," said Brunker. "By bridging the affordability gap and easing the burden of the upfront costs of purchasing, our grants will help more people realize their dream of being a homeowner with the ability to enter the market, build equity and create generational wealth."

In late 2023, Ally launched its ComeHome platform in collaboration with HouseCanary to create a robust home journey ecosystem with property search tools for potential homebuyers and home valuation resources for existing homeowners. Since then, the platform has amassed 53,000 active users and continues to grow.
